1-Henne Zu OHRNDORF<sup>1</sup> was born in 1560 in Hof Ohrndorf, Freudenberg, Nassau-Siegen and died on Jun 12, 1616 in Hof Ohrndorf, Freudenberg, Nassau-Siegen, at age 56.

General Notes: [Following are excerpts extracted from the book, "An Orndorff Family" by Roy Orndorff.]

Henne zu Ohrndorf was listed in a 1594 tax list as the "Hofman" at Ohrndorf, indicating that he had inherited title and tenancy of the farm by that time. His place of residence seems to have been indicated variously as Büschen and Hof Ohrndorf, these being different designations, in descending order of size, for the same locality. The source of this tax record information is given as the Hauptstaatsarchiv, Wiesbaden, Abt, 171 T 27. 38. The records of the Freudenberg Parish (Gemeinde) of the Evangelical-Reformed Church, the source for the baptisms, marriages and burials of the earliest generations. (The records begin in 1612, so any further research before that was curtailed.)

Re-reading the book "The Christian Ohrndorf Family in Germany", by Julia Drake, I saw some items of interest to add here. Miss Drake was assisted by others in Germany who were familiar with the geography and the history of the region. Christian Orndorf (also Ohrndorf) lived near Freudenberg, a very picturesque village of half-timbered homes. The buildings are not as old as one might suspect as fire has destroyed much of the village on more than one occasion.

The construction of the homes was with bricks to a height of about one meter [three feet]. On this low wall, timbers of oak were set. The trees had to be felled in the light of a waning moon because it was thought the wood would have less sap and be more durable. After the timbers were placed, loam mixed with straw [shades of adobe] was used to fill the space between the timbers. After the loam had dried, the timbers were painted black or brown and the surface of the loam were painted with soured milk and lime [whitewash]. This created a strong contrast between the dark timbers and the white intervals which makes a striking setting.

The landscape of Freudenberg is dominated by the Reformed Church, which stands on a rise that had been occupied by a "castle" earlier. The castle had been built in the 1300's as a fortress against the neighboring Dominion of Wildenburg. The ruler of Wildenburg had built a fortified Krottorf Castle a few kilometers to the west of Freudenberg. This latter moated castle still stands today and is a popular destination for tourists. Perhaps the most important point is that these castles show how small many of the Dominions were. Many were not much more than estate farms.

Freudenberg was mentioned in the year 1255, but it was not until 1456 that it became a town. Fire destroyed most of the town in 1540, including part of the castle. In 1666, this scenario was repeated and the castle was never rebuilt. Instead, a (Reformed) church was built there, utilizing a castle tower as the tower of the church building.

Throughout the region, practically every man was actively engaged in three occupations: Farming and Forestry were foremost, and a third one might be mining, smelting, casting, tanning of leather, boiling of glue, or the making of felt. Iron was not a major occupation, because the smelting periods were limited to about two months out of the year. The iron smelters and hammer smiths were prohibited from leaving the country under the penalty of law. This was an attempt to limit the spread of their knowledge, even though these trades were much practiced in every country. All children of a deceased farmer received a part of his farm by law. Therefore, the holdings had become very small. In this situation, it was difficult to prosper, though it is granted that a comfortable living, by the standards of the day, might be made.

[Some of the material, especially the last paragraph, has its origin in the book by Dr. Lothar Irle, "Das Siegerland" published in 1967.]

General Notes: [EXCERPT FROM DAVID BLY]

The first record of Hubert, or as sometime referred to, Huppert, is as a sponsor at the baptism of a child at Freudenberg in 1621. By 1624 he had inherited the Hof Ohrndorff and appears on a tax account as the tenant. By 1627 he was married. He is referred to in a number of instances in the parish register as "Huppert, Hofman zu Ohrndorff" but this usage seems to have died out by the end of the Thirty Years War and he was referred to as simply Huppert or Hubert Ohrndorff in his later years. There are several items from the State Archives of Nordrhein-Westphalen relating to Hubert Ohrndorff's wood cutting rights and grazing rights at Büschen. In 1647 he purchased wood cutting rights and meadowland rights from Matthias Müller of (Hof) Ohrndorff and in 1656 purchased "mountain land" cutting rights from Johannes Söhler at Büschen.

[EXCERPT FROM ROY ORNDORFF]

In 1636, Hupert is mentioned as a member of the Büschergrundt procession, and in the same year as a horse soldier with one horse. His name appears in 1660 and 1661 as a witness to contracts. In December 1661, there was litigation involving Huppert and his second wife versus his daughter (by his first wife), Catherina, and her husband, Johannes Schmidt, concerning an anticipated inheritance. In June 1662, Huppert and wife Margaretha acknowledged a debt to Ehrich Demant, and mortgaged a meadow to secure it.<sup>1</sup>

Huppert married Margaretha SCHNEIDER<sup>1</sup>, daughter of Jacob SCHNEIDER and Margaretha _____, in Jun 1641 in Freudenberg, Nassau-Siegen<sup>1</sup>. Noted events in his life were:

General Notes: Moved from Chester Co., PA to Shenandoah Co., then to Frederick Co., VA about 1776.

JOHNES PETER "JOHN" ORNDORFF: (excerpt from Daniel Bly book).

John Orndorff first appears on the tax lists of Vincent Township in Chester County, Pennsylvania, with his father in 1766 when he was 22 years old. In 1767 he was being taxed for 70 acres of land and the following year was taxed on 200 acres. Between 1769 and 1774 he was taxed for between 100 and 200 acres, apparently having rented or leased farm land since there is no record of a land grant or purchase by John. John does not appear in the records of Vincent Township after 1774 and by 1777 was found living in Coventry Township. This may signify that John had already moved out of his home with Ava Barbara and took his children to another town.

Descendants of Henne Zu Ohrndorf

John and Barbara Orndorff were having marriage conflicts as early as 1771, evidenced by published charges and recriminations that have been found in the newspaper, stated in "The Pennsylvania Genealogical Magazine, Vol. XXXIV, No 4, 1986". John and Eva Barbara obviously had marital difficulties and on 4 April 1777 he sent a notice to be published in the "Pennsylvania Gazette" repudiating any debts incurred by his wife, Barbara, who: "doth continue in her wicked ways." He further adds, " I think it proper to forewarn the public a second time, from lending or trusting the said Barbara any thing on my account, as I am determined never to pay any debts of her contracting." This second statement published April 16, 1777 in the Pennsylvania Gazette, Philadelphia, PA. Several days later John left the county with "a girl named Hannah Muckleweb" and Barbara put a notice in the "Gazette", dated 16 April and published 23 April, offering a thirty Pound reward to anyone who caught them and returned them to be brought to justice. In this notice John "Ornduff" was described as "a country born Dutchman, talks good English, wore his uniform brown coat, faced with blue, a knot on his shoulder, white jacket and breeches, about five feet 7 or 8 inches high, fresh complexion, light brown curled hair..." He and the girl, who would probably "try to pass for man and wife were last seen in Lancaster the day after they ran off, on their way over Susquehanna: they took a half silk gown from his wife, a new chintz ditto, a lawn apron and handkerchief, a white silk bonnet; he rode a young black mare, and the girl a grey mare, with a new hunting saddle with silver gilt round the edge," (Ibid. Apr 23, 1777).

John and Hannah apparently went straight to Virginia and settled in the Cedar Creek area of western Frederick County about 12 miles from Winchester. There is evidence that he worked for Isaac Zane at the Marlboro ironworks on Cedar Creek. If this is the case then he may well have known his destination when he left PA because Zane had been advertising land along North Mountain "...about 12 miles from Winchester," in the "Pennsylvania Gazette" from 1775 onward. (end of quote by David Bly).

John and Hannah McIlwee evidently were never married as evident in the will that John Orndorff drew up, 17 Nov 1798 in Frederick County, VA. John left Hannah one sixteenth of his estate, where as if she had been the legal wife of John, she would have received one third of the estate. All of John and Barbara's children traveled with John and Hannah to Frederick county, although sons Joshua and Jesse later returned to PA. In the will of John, his dissatisfaction with these two sons was evident as he left Joshua one dollar and to Jesse one half-dollar. The remaining 15 children received one sixteenth of his estate, Hannah receiving the same. In 1782 on the tax list, John Orndorff is listed as head of a household of 13. This number would include the children of Barbara and the children that John and Hannah had up to 1782. Also going to VA with John and Hannah were John's two brothers, Lewis and Philip, also two sons of Margaret Orndorff Hinkins, ( John's nephews), George & John Hinkins. This indicates that after the death of their father, the major part of the family had planned a well executed trip to Virginia. It appears that Mary, Margaret and Susannah stayed in PA with their mother. Nothing is known as to what ever became of Barbara Orndorff after John left her in Vincent township.

Synopsis by Christina Mollahan: From reading the will it appears that the married children in November, 1798 were: John, Philip, and Elizabeth. Joshua was still alive as will states: "One dollar which is all I allow him of my Estate." Jesse was still in Frederick at time of making out the will as he married 2 Sept 1799 in Frederick County to Catherine Strosnider. Would be interesting to learn why these two boys did not receive of their fathers estate.

There are some researchers that state that the first wife of John Peter was Eva Barbara MENTZ. This has never been proved, so I do not use this name in my files. It could be a fact but until a marriage license is found, I am going with the UNKNOWN surname. Found in the Passenger Lists' is this item:

General Notes: Last name spelled 'Ohrndorf'. Changed name from Ludwig Ernst Arendorf to Lewis Orndorff in Frederick Co., VA. Lived in Washington Co., VA in 1798. Changed last name to Ornduff.

From Christina Mollahan:

Ludwig Ernst Ohrndorff was born at Burbach, Nassau on March 11, 1752, and baptized on March 12, 1752, with sponsors Johann Ernst Heyn, Johannes Ludwig Sauer and Anna Maria Sauer. Ludwig, who became known as Lewis after his arrival in America, came to America with his parents, Philip Heinrich Arndorff and Anna Elizabeth Luhl Arndorff. They arrived in Philadelphia, PA 2 Oct 1753, making Lewis just a year and a half old when he ended his giant voyage to America. Lewis had older siblings making the trip also, his oldest brother r John, born in 1744, his sister Mary, born 1746 and sister Margaret, born 1748.

In 1768, the records of the East Vincent United Church, (formerly Reformed), in Vincent, Chester Co., PA record the confirmation of Ludwig Arendorff, age 16. He was entered as the son of Philip Arendorff.

The will of Philip Arndorff was written in February 1777 in Chester Co., PA, and he named his wife, Anna "Elizabeth" as executor and "Lewis" as co-executor.

Sometime after 1777, Lewis Orndorff left Chester Co., PA for Frederick Co., VA. Lewis was most likely married by the time that he immigrated to VA, with one or two children. No marriage record has been found, nor has the name of Lewis wife been revealed in any records that have so far been found.

Lewis Orndorff was found on the tax lists for Frederick Co., VA in 1782. There are no earlier lists, so cannot discern exactly when Lewis arrived in VA. Lewis is listed in the tax record as the head of a family of five, so this tells you that he had children as early as 1776. I have found names of those born after 1780, and suspect that the oldest were daughters. Lewis at this time was living near his older brother John Orndorff and his family. They lived in Western Frederick county, in the Cedar Creek area. They were about 12 miles from Winchester, John Orndorff living on what was known as "Princely's Place". Another younger brother, Philip, also made the move to Frederick County, as did their sister Anna Margaretha "Margaret" Hinkins two sons.

Lewis Orndorff was on the Frederick county tax lists until, and through the year 1798. In 1799, Lewis is found on the Washington county tax list, and continued on the list until 1817. Lewis was found on the 1810 and 1820 census for Washington Co., VA. He was not thereafter on any census or tax list. Subsequent to the move to Washington county, Lewis' surname became ORNDUFF. There are three daughters of Lewis that have not been identified at this time, believed to have stayed in the Frederick County area when Lewis made the move to Washington County, VA.
